CONGRESSMEN GLAD

Getting Ready for the Coming Congress.

IMMIGRATION COMMISSION

Members of Rivers and Harbors Committee Now Touring Great Lakes-Interior Communities of a Ship Canal from Lakes to Gulf of Mexico.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.-These truly are the gladdest days of all the glad, glad year for Congressmen. Dotted over the face of the habitable globe are little parties of frock-coated, high-hatted men whose fares are familiar in the halls of Congress. For the most part they are traveling at government expense, engaged in soaking up information to turn loose on their colleagues on Capitol Hill in the shape of speeches and to help fill up the pages of the Congressional Record.

This week saw the arrival from abroad of the Immigration Commission appointed by the President, the Senate and the House. The members scarcely had landed and regained their "land legs" when a committee of dignified government officials came storming down the wharf, outward bound. The trio who composed this committee are hurrying over to England, France and Germany to acquaint themselves with tariff conditions in those countries. They were appointed by Secretary Cortelyou to look carefully into the matter. The head of the Treasury does not intend to be caught napping by tariff revisionists in the next session.

Perhaps the most important of these "junctets," as they are dubbed by the envious, is that of the Rivers and Harbors committee of the House. The members are now touring the Great Lakes, examining the harbors and the principal canals and breakwaters. The start was made at Buffalo, but practically the entire lakes system will be gone over. Great preparations are being made by those communities interested in the construction of a ship canal from the lakes to the Gulf of Mexico to entertain the committee, but it is probably that nothing will be gained by this, for the party cannot commit itself.

Among those who are making the trip are Congressmen Acheson, of Pennsylvania; Alexander, of New York; Lawrence, of Massachusetts; Davidson, of Wisconsin; Bede, of Minnesota; Ellis, of Missouri; Sparkman, of Florida; Ransdell, of Louisiana; Burgess, of Texas; Humphreys, of Mississippi; and Moon of Tennessee. Nearly all are accompanied by their wives, and James H. Cassidy, secretary of the committee, with Mrs. Cassidy, is along.

The trip is not one of pleasure, by any means. The members of the party are putting in a good 14 hours daily in looking over the improvements under way and examining into new schemes that will be pressed in the coming session. Congressman Ransdell's enthusiasm is keeping his colleagues up to the work, although all are enthusiasts on the question of waterway development. Mr. Ransdell is president of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, which is pledged to a crusade for the purpose of having the government appropriate not less than $50,000,000 a year for waterway development.

Once the trip is ended, the committee will probably join the journey down the Mississippi River in the train of the president. This tour is planned for the first part of next month and besides President Roosevelt there will be in the party the members of the Inland Waterways Commission, the Mississippi River Commission, members of the Rivers and Harbors committee and members of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress. The official party will travel in the light-house tender, Lily, and the steamers Mississippi and Mackenzie. A fleet of more than 100 other craft will furnish escort. The President's journey is expected to stimulate greatly the interest in the whole question of waterway development.

His Dear Old Mother. "My dear old mother, who is now 83 years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by Charles Rogers, druggist, 502.

GAMBLED WITH LIFE.

Al Grill Gets New Trial and Heaviest Penalty.

SANTA ROSA, Sept. 30.-Al Grill, who gambled with a decision of the State Supreme Court of California with his life as a stake, will be brought here from San Quentin for death sentence by Superior Judge Emmet Seawell for the murder of W. S. Pearce, an Alexander Valley farmer.

Mary Pierce, the sixteen-year-old daughter of the murdered man was the woman over whom the tragedy occurred. Pearce was shot to death as he lay in bed. Grill was placed under arrest and accused of the murder. It was known that Pearce objected to the attention that Grill was paying to the daughter. Grill denied that he was guilty of murder setting up the claim that the gun had been accidentally discharged.

The accused man had two trials. The jury in the first one found him guilty of murder and fixed his punishment at imprisonment for life. This did not satisfy him.

"I'll take a gambler's chance," he said to his attorneys, as he was asking them to appeal for a new trial.

At this second trial the jury found him guilty and fixed the punishment at death. Still confident of his luck, Grill appealed the case to the Supreme Court. Fate was against him, however, for the Court recently affirmed the judgment and Grill will have the date for his execution fixed tomorrow.

A Most Worthy Article. When an article has been on the market for years and gains friends every year, it is safe to call this medicine a worthy one. Such is Ballard's Horehound Syrup. It positively cures coughs and all pulmonary diseases. One of the best known merchants in Mobile, Ala., says:

"For five years my family has not been troubled with the winter coughs. We owe this to Ballard's Horehound Syrup. I know it has saved my children from many sick spells." Sold by Hart's Drug Store.

Out of Sight. "Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles too and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by Charles Rogers, 25c.

DAMSITE!

Damsite is the name of a new town in Texas, recently included in the list of postoffices. It is a village located on the 10,000-acre farm of Col. Cecil Lyon and associates in the Texas Pandandis. They have their own system of irrigation and are not selling the land but will cultivate it, employing about 200 farm hands. A commissary store is conducted as a part of the farm enterprise, and an amusement hall has just been finished. The aim is to make Damsite a model community.

A Criminal Attack on an inoffensive citizen is frequently made in that apparently useless tube, the "appendix." It's generally the result of protracted constipation, following liver torpor. Dr. King's New Life Pills regulate the liver, prevent appendicitis, and establish regular habits of the bowels. 25c at Charles Rogers' drug store.
